Mesh Front Grill Sets For;
996 / 997, GT3, Boxster & Cayman
(can also apply to other models)

1, Remove side indicators & remove retaining screws behind.

2, Remove plastic trim panel around the lower lock underneath the bonnet.

3, Remove the retaining screws along the front edge of the front bumper

4, Remover the screws along the under part of the bumper attached to the under tray.

5, Loosen the bumper end away from the black front wheel arch inner liner to access the hidden screw vertically securing the wing to the bumper. (repeat on both sides)

6, Un-plug air sensor from the right hand air vent and remove bumper.

7, Unclip vent plastic trim around apertures, Note; this part is not on GT3 models!

8, Place the mesh pieces into the respective vents and form neatly around the edges. Note; It is advised at this point to have a piece of carpet or soft cloth to rest the panel on.

9, Once in place use the silicone sealant between the mesh & vent surround.

10, Once the sealant is applied it may be advisable to rest a heavy object on the grill to hold it in place wile the sealant sets (allow a minimum of 2-3 hours before attempting re-assembly, ideally over night)

11, Once the sealant has set re-fit the bumper allowing 8-12 hours before using the car at speed.

© Porscheshop 2008